Polish Recruitment Manager takes the reins for Hospitality industry.

The Jersey Recruitment Agency has appointed a Polish recruitment manager to oversee the employment of staff in the Hospitality and Tourism industry.

Kamila Reczynska has been in the Island since 2003 and represents a growing number of employees from Poland now living and working in Jersey.

The Jersey Recruitment Agency is part of the Jersey Hospitality Association and an integral part of Kamila's role will be to support hospitality personnel and those looking to work in the sector and particularly employers from the JHA membership, which now represents more than 400 industry partners.

Gerald Fletcher, chief executive officer of the JHA said Kamila has been working for the association as a recruitment and training administrator for the past nine months and her skills perfectly match the important role of Recruitment Manager.

"Like many other Polish employees, Kamila has gained an in-depth knowledge of the local hospitality industry and her previous studies in marketing and management, economics, book-keeping, promotions, sales and taxation will be of tremendous benefit in her new role. We are extremely pleased with her appointment and she will be an integral part of the further development of our recruitment office, which acts as a significant membership benefit and service".

28 year old Kamila also holds a Masters degree in International Marketing and is fluent in Polish and English with good German and speaks basic Italian and Russian. During her time in Jersey, she has gained certificates for Jersey Welcome Host, Victim Support training, Basic Food Hygiene, Safety at Work, Introduction to Hospitality Skills and computer literacy.

Kamila left Poland to progress her career and says this new job will not only develop her business and recruitment skills but will also see her fostering important relationships with members of the local hospitality industry.

"I am looking forward to representing and raising the profile of the Jersey Recruitment Agency but, most of all, I am extremely keen to support and nurture future links with JHA members and the industry generally."
